

Read & Publish at Oxford University Press

Opening the doors to trusted research

Your institution has a Read & Publish agreement with Oxford University Press (OUP). This means you can:

- ▶ Read trusted, high-quality, peer-reviewed research from OUP's prestigious journals collection
- ▶ Publish open access (OA) articles with fees covered by your institution

Publishing OA with OUP maximizes the discoverability, visibility, and impact of your research:

- ▶ An OA license allows researchers around the world to read, share, cite, reuse, and build upon your findings
- ▶ Our OA publishing is subject to the highest standards of publication ethics, and benefits from rigorous editorial and peer review
- ▶ It's quick and easy to use your institution's agreement to cover the APC (article processing charge) of your accepted article

Visit our website to find out if your chosen journal is participating and how to make use of this agreement for your accepted article

RESEARCH WITH IMPACT

OUP's OA articles are highly cited with competitive reach and impact:

A 68% higher
altmetric score

A 33% higher
citation count

+100% more
page views

* This data relates to OA articles published in hybrid journals compared with non-OA articles. Citation count and Altmetric score data from 2019-2022 (last updated December 2024). Usage data for articles published 2018-2024 (last accessed January 2025).